Greater China Corporation announced the formation of Tong Ren Tang Wellness Corporation in partnership with TRT USA Corp. The new company, which is owned equally by the two partners, will develop spa-like wellness centers that will provide treatments and products based upon China’s famous Tong Ren Tang herbal medicines. These will include acupuncture, massage, acupressure, Tuina, Tai-Chi, Qigong, reflexology and many other oriental treatments as well as a full line of herbal food and health products.

The Tong Ren Tang Wellness Centers will be the first extension of these herbal treatments to the spa market. Wellness centers will be located in historical Chinese communities and other retail locations including health and exercise centers, shopping malls, airports, and existing spas. A higher-end market will be developed in conjunction with luxury hotels, cruise ships and other exclusive locations. Pilot programs are currently under development for both market segments. The growing fascination with Chinese traditional medicine and the desire for more spa-like treatments and wellness programs represent the positive trends upon which the Tong Ren Tang Wellness Centers are being developed.

About Tong Ren Tang
Tong Ren Tang is China’s oldest and most prestigious brand name. The company was started in 1669 under the Qing Dynasty and, for more than 200 years, was the exclusive supplier of natural medicine to China’s imperial court. Today, it is a US$10 billion business in China and is rapidly expanding internationally.
